Raising kids is a walk in the park. Jurassic Park.	If you love arguing about why it's important to wear a coat when it's 12 degrees outside, you should definitely have kids.
MESSY HAIR. DON'T CARE. actually, I do care. It's just that parenthood has forced me to lower my standards. like a lot.	I love when I find myself screaming, "STOP SCREAMING!!!!!!" at my kids. That's how I teach them irony.
"Go get a napkin? Why would I do that when I have these Sweet napkin pants?" - my kids	Moms should get a fast-pass to the front of the line at coffee shops. It should be a triage system of who needs it more! Like, "Girl, you're 22 and slept 11 hours. Back of the line."
Friend: Are you okay? You look tired. Me: I have kids. I'm pretty sure this is just my face now.	To my children:  Never make fun of having to help me with computer stuff.  I taught you how to use a spoon.
The hardest part of parenting is trying to be fake mad when your kid does something bad but hilarious.	Ah, babies! Adorable little creatures on whom you can blame your farts.

If a woman speaks and no one is listening, her name is probably Mom.	When your "mom voice" is so loud even the neighbors brush their teeth and get dressed.
Fun parent drinking game:  Take a shot every time your child whines.  Haha. Don't do this, you will die.	You want to know what it's like having a fourth kid? Imagine you're drowning. Then someone hands you a baby.
Hey moms! Here's a fun game: When your kid gets home from school, be lying on the floor screaming in pain, "YOU STEPPED ON A CRACK!"	Children cleaning their room:  1% cleaning 30% complaining 69% playing with stuff they find
Welcome to parenthood. Hope you don't like peeing alone.	Cashier who is obviously a mom: "Do you want to hide the chocolate in your purse?"
The quickest way for a mother to get her children's attention is to sit down and look comfortable.	First child eats dirt. Parent calls doctor. Second child eats dirt. Parent cleans out mouth. Third child eats dirt. Parent wonders if she really needs to feed him lunch.

Want kids to behave on road trips? Bring a bag of candy.
Anytime they misbehave, throw a piece out the window.

Don't yell at your kids! Lean in real close and whisper.

It's much scarier.

A few mommy luxuries:

- 1. Showers.
- 2. Non-pajama clothing
- 3. Hoop earrings
- 4. Heels
- 5. Sitting down
- 6. Chewing your food

Here's to Friday!

Oh that's right. We're parents.

Friday means nothing anymore.

People who say they sleep like babies usually don't have them.
